

Where to Apply for a Passport (If the Applicant is Abroad)

If you are living abroad, you should choose the Nepali mission in your country or the Nepali mission that is concurrently accredited to the country you are currently living as your enrollment centre and submit your application form there. Typically, passports applied through missions abroad are issued within 15 to 30 days. However, processing times may vary depending on the specific mission, so it's advisable to consult the respective mission for accurate information.

The fees and procedures for passport applications can differ between missions, so it's recommended to obtain detailed information from the relevant mission before applying.

Required Documents for Application from Abroad:

- 1 A copy of the application form with the barcode and QR code received after filling out the form (preferably printed, and if not, digital).
- 2 Original Nepali Citizenship or Minor Identity Card.
- 3 Original current passport.
- 4 Bank voucher or cash receipt of the revenue payment.
- 5 Additional documents, if necessary.

Special Provision for First Time Passport Applications for Children Born Abroad to Nepali Parents

Children born abroad to Nepali parents who do not possess a Minor Identity Card can apply for a passport through the respective Nepali diplomatic mission. In such cases, the embassy or consulate will issue a birth registration certificate or assign a temporary registration number. This number should be entered in the 'Citizenship Number' field of the passport application form.

Required Documents:

- 1 Copies of Nepali citizenship certificates of both parents of the child.
- 2 Copies of passports of both parents.
- 3 Marriage registration certificate of parents.
- 4 Original birth registration certificate of the child.
- 5 Two recent passport-size photographs of the child.

After submitting the above documents to the embassy, the embassy will provide the birth registration or temporary registration number. In the passport application form of the minor, the registration number provided by the embassy should be mentioned in place of the citizenship number. Please note that once a passport has been issued under this provision, obtaining a Minor Identity Card from the relevant District or Area Administration Office in Nepal is mandatory for any future passport renewals.

Additional Documents for Passport Application:

- 1 (a) If the date of birth in the citizenship certificate differs from the date of birth in the educational qualification certificate and it is necessary to obtain a passport using the date of birth as per the educational qualification, a certificate of educational qualification of SLC/SEE or equivalent, or higher level must be provided.
- 2 (b) If the date of birth in the citizenship certificate differs from the date of birth in the Indian, British, or Singapore pension slip/documents (Pension Patta) and it is necessary to obtain a passport using the date of birth as per the pension slip, the Indian, British, or Singapore pension slip (Discharge Certificate) must be provided.
- 3 (c) If a married woman needs to include her husband's surname in addition to the one stated in her citizenship certificate for passport purposes, she must provide the marriage registration certificate and her husband's citizenship certificate.
- 4 (d) For divorced women who have included husband's surname in citizenship or in previous passport and want to exclude husband's surname in current passport application after divorce, a divorce certificate must be presented.
